PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE— URSULA HUTTON

Dear ECSC Members,

A new year has begun and so has the planning for our 2014 ECSC Regional Specialty on Saturday, September 27th—happily back at Sampson State Park with the Wine Country Circuit (WCC). I've sent in the WCC Commitment Form; Shirley Smith has arranged for Roger Frey to be our Sweeps Judge; Paige Carey-Buono will order the rosettes with our club's name; Laura Pelletier will arrange for the trophies as well as solicit sponsors for classes; and JoAnn Giovinetti, RoseEllen Stone, and Spencer and Sandi Lovelace will take charge of hospitality and raffle items; Don Sutkowski and Deb Childs will take charge of selling raffle ticket and assist with hospitality and raffle setup; and Arlene and Richard Schalk will set up and distribute trophies at ringside. As we get closer in, we may need to solicit additional assistance, so please plan on attending and helping out as called upon. ☺

Shortly, we'll begin working on the SCA Regional Specialty that ECSC is hosting in conjunction with the SCA National in Chattanooga, TN, March 8-14, 2015. We will need all hands on deck, so please plan on attending and be willing to work. You may be getting an e-mail or phone call asking you to chair a particular position, please do say "yes". ☺

I look forward to seeing everyone at the March 27-28-29-30, 2014, shows at the NYS Fairgrounds. As always, check with me at ringside on Saturday for place and time of our meeting. We'll need to decide on a date for our annual SchipNic, so check your calendars for dates that work for you. Incidentally, the Canadian Schipperke National is being held on August 16 in conjunction with the TIKO shows, August 15-16-17, 2015, in Brockville, Ontario, Canada, so that weekend is out for the SchipNic since many of us will be attending.

REMINDER: Support your ECSC Newsletter - SchipSnip - by taking out ads; soliciting ads from your local pet shops, vets, groomers, etc.; writing articles or suggesting articles. We plan on distributing the newsletter to a wider audience, so be sure to tell any potential advertisers that by advertising they would be reaching potential customers.

I hope that our snowy winter wasn't too harsh for you and that spring brings you the warmth of renewal ☺

Respectfully,

Ursula

SUGGESTED LOST DOG SEARCH PROCEDURES

*Bonnie Folz, Animal Search and Rescuer
(via Bonnie Wagner-Westbrook, 732-735-8345)*

IMMEDIATELY CREATE AND DUPLICATE A LOST DOG FLIER AND GET FLIERS POSTED WITHIN A 2-3 MILE RADIUS.

Dogs can travel very far, very fast, no matter their size. Keep the flier simple.

The flier should have the words "LOST DOG" in large bold letters, with a clear picture of the dog. If you do not have a decent, clear photo of your dog, find a photo on line of a dog of the same breed, or as close to it as possible, and use that photo for the flier. (Believe me, Joe Q Public will not know the difference.)

Include a PHONE NUMBER in large bold numbers and be sure it is a phone number that can and will be answered 24/7. Sadly, sighting calls have been made to lost dog owners only to have the calls go to voice mail.

"DO NOT CHASE" is important text to include.

You can also put "REWARD" on the flier, no need to list the amount.

Large color posters work best, if not use a colored 8.5x11 paper and put them in sheet protectors with the opening on the bottom (staple them shut), so the fliers are protected from the weather and will hold up longer. Depending on the area the dog is lost (city or rural) will help you decide how many fliers to make. I've gone through a few hundred fliers posting in the city (one intersection could potentially take up 10 fliers posting both sides of poles on each corner and median) and if the flier is being handed out as well, you will need more.

REMEMBER: FLIERS GET THE SIGHTINGS, SIGHTINGS FIND THE PET!

ENLIST THE HELP OF FAMILY AND FRIENDS. You cannot do this alone! Do not be afraid or ashamed to ask for help and delegate what needs to be done.

Purchase bright colored Window Paint pens at your local office supply store and write 'LOST DOG' in large letters on the outside of your vehicle's back seat side windows. Post a copy of the flier in each of the back windows. Ask others to do the same. These pens are rain resistant, but can be removed without too much effort.

Keep your hazard lights on while posting fliers on the street. This will draw attention to your vehicle and the lost flier posted in its window (like a moving mini billboard).

Fliers should be posted at all major intersections, high enough and in the direction of traffic so that drivers can see it if stopped at a corner or if a car is parked in front of it. Use clear packing tape and be sure to go completely around the pole on top and bottom of the flier so it does not blow/rip off easily. If no sightings come in from the area you posted, the dog may have traveled further away and you will need to widen the posting zone another 2-3 miles.

Notify AND get a copy of the flier to your breeder, veterinarians, groomers, animal shelters and rescue groups, kennel clubs, dog parks, pet supply stores, feral cat colony feeders, police and fire departments, dog training facilities and clubs, youth groups, churches/temples, postal workers, bus and taxi drivers, delivery persons (pizza, FedEx, etc.) real estate agents, landscapers, sanitation workers, and anyone else who would be working outdoors and ask them to post the flier so all other employees and patrons can see it.

If your dog is micro-chipped, contact the microchip company and file a lost report. Be sure they have your correct contact information and that of an emergency contact. Many microchip companies send out lost pet alerts to the surrounding areas.

PHYSICALLY GO (or send someone) to local and surrounding animal shelters/pound and ask the staff to take you through the shelter for a lost walk. Be sure to check every cage. File a lost report with them and be sure to leave a copy of your dog's lost flier. You may need to visit the shelter daily to see if your dog has come in. (Our local shelter only holds stray animals for 72 hours before they are either put up for adoption or euthanized.) Don't rely on the shelter to contact you if your dog is picked up or brought in. Very often dogs are misidentified as a completely different breed/gender/age, even color, and micro-chips can sometimes go days before being traced if the shelter is even able to scan for them at all.

Post your dog as LOST on all of the lost pet websites (most are free) and be sure to include a photo.

and any other lost dog/pet websites you can find as well as neighborhood group websites.

Create a Face Book page and ask people to SHARE it. Post to this page with any updates or help that is needed during the search. It is a good central spot for people to find up-to-date info without having to weed through other postings. You will be amazed at how many people would like to help but are not local and cannot be the 'boots on the ground.' Those are the people that you can delegate work to for posting the info to the various websites and anything else that can be done remotely.

Post to your own Face Book page and be sure to put the city and state in the first sentence (i.e. LOST PHARAOH HOUND – Glendale, NY) then include the date and time the dog went missing, include the cross streets and phone number on who to contact for sightings or if found, and direct them to the FB page you created for the lost dog so that people can go there to monitor what is needed for the search. Ask friends to SHARE.

Post to any Lost & Found Facebook pages and local neighborhood Facebook pages, always including a photo.

Email the alert with the flier attached to anyone who would be in your area and ask them to cross-post for you.

Get a copy of the lost flier to all animal rescue groups in your area. You can locate them through the Pet-finder website, just enter the zip code of where the dog went missing and the info for each participating rescue group will populate. You will need to get the email contact info for each group and email them a copy of the flier. This is time consuming and a project that you can delegate to someone out of town to do remotely.

Contact the breed club's rescue and members, whether or not you are a member of the club, they will help.

There are companies with a service that sends out recorded phone messages to local residents alerting home owners and businesses about the lost dog, you can include in the message to have them check their garages, barns, sheds, etc. FindToto.com is one of those companies.

There is a great company I've used many times to help with lost pets called Prospect Lead Source (ProspectLeadSource.com) that can supply you with the fax numbers, addresses and phone numbers for businesses in the area. You can fax out the flier along with a letter asking the business owners to post it in their front window, bulletin board, employee break room, and car windows. The list can be divided between volunteers to fax out or you can contact a faxing service to do it for you. Be sure the flier is readable before it gets faxed. A color photo on a flier may show up as a blur when sent to a black and white fax machine.

Contact the local news media (television / newspapers / radio stations).

FOLLOW UP ON ALL SIGHTINGS AND LEADS! Keep track of dates, times and cross streets of all sightings. Remember to thank anyone who contacts you.

MAP THE SIGHTINGS! These will help establish a pattern / location of where the dog is or where it may be headed.

If fliers are not posted in the area of the last confirmed sighting, get them posted in a 1-2 mile radius of that area.

Lost dogs will look for a water source (lake, pond, etc.) and tend to follow a green-belt (parks, cemeteries, woods, golf courses, rail road tracks). They seem to travel in circles, widening their circle as they go, and may very well come back to the area they went missing from. However, dogs have been found MANY miles away in a matter of hours, even small dogs!

For those who go out to post fliers and search, be sure to bring a kennel / slip leash, some smelly treats (boneless Kentucky Fried Chicken and cat food works well), something with the dog or owner's scent, a squeak toy or squawker and a tape gun with clear packing tape and stapler/staple hammer with staples to post fliers.

ONCE THERE ARE REPEATED SIGHTINGS IN AN AREA, SET UP ONE OR TWO FEEDING/ WATER STATIONS. It's important to keep the dog coming back to the same location in case a humane trap is needed to catch the dog. If you set up too many feeding stations, the dog will have too many places to get its food and not be hungry enough to go into a trap once it gets set up. Dogs can go a few days without food, but will need a water source. Place the dog or owners scent articles near by to give the dog something its familiar with. Shred an unlaundered shirt, pillowcase, etc. into strips and hang them low on fencing and branches 10-20' apart leading to the feeding station. As crazy as it may sound, spraying / sprinkling the owner's urine around will help as well. Again, it's important to make the dog want to come back to and stay in the same area.

If sighted DO NOT CHASE the dog! Contact the owner / search coordinator immediately and try not to lose sight of the dog.

- Do NOT approach the dog directly (head on) and do NOT make eye contact. Be very nonchalant, as if you are just out for a stroll and you do not even notice the dog.
- Do not make the dog feel it is being hunted or chased.
- GET LOW and GO SLOW. Sit or lay on the ground (with your back or side to the dog) and inch your way closer to the dog slowly. Take your time.
- Talk softly using puppy talk and toss treats in the direction of the dog drawing the dog in. Pretend that you are eating or feeding treats to the friendly dog you brought along. This may help coax the dog closer to you.
- Take your time building the lost dog's confidence and trust. A lost dog is very often so frightened that it may not come to its name being called. It may not even come to their owner and may actually run the other way.
- Do not try to actually attempt to catch the dog until you are sure you have the dog's confidence. You may only have this one chance, so take it slow. It took one search volunteer a few hours of sitting in a field, patiently drawing a lost Pharaoh Hound closer before he could wrap his arms around her.

If a humane trap is needed, reach out to your local shelter or rescue group, they may have a trap large enough for you to rent. When setting up the trap, you may need a towel or a piece of carpet/cardboard to line the bottom of it. Some dogs will be wary of stepping onto the metal wire floor of the trap and not go into it.

If you hire a tracking team, be sure to research them first. I've worked with about a dozen pet trackers over the years and some of them are just out to play off your emotions and take your money. Some of the others were outstanding and worth every penny. Please know that a lost dog, unless injured or dead, is always on the move! The tracking team does not usually find the dog. However, a tracking team will confirm and track sightings and, at least, give you a direction / area to work on getting fliers posted - which could be miles away from where the dog went missing.

Parks Department, Sanitation Department and Department of Transportation should also be notified and sent the lost flier. If the unfortunate happens and your dog's body is picked up, even if the dog has a collar with tags, they may not notify you. We have found that to be true here in NYC.

Once your dog is found, please be sure to remove all posted fliers and delete all lost reports.

AGAIN, FLIERS GET THE SIGHTINGS, SIGHTINGS GET THE PETS!!!

We hope this information was helpful. We pray that it helps you find your lost dog.

UNPAID KENNEL HELP - THE REAR PERSPECTIVE

People participating in the purebred dog world often don't realize how absorbing that focus is in terms of time, energy, or money, etc.. They often are oblivious to the impact the decision to participate in dog events has on their relationships with humans. We thought it might be interesting to gain the perspective of that significant other person who walks with us (sometimes reluctantly behind us) down the path we follow toward that elusive award or goal we seek to accomplish with our canine companions. We compiled a list of questions that we thought might be able to draw out the real thoughts of the unsung heroes of the dog world. Ursula Hutton and Marnie Layng presented this list to their spouses and the results follow. You might try getting your family to complete the same survey. We would love to share them with the members if you do. Be brave.

John Layng's Response

| Survey Questions | Response |

| What were your thoughts when your spouse became interested in purebred dogs, especially the Schipperke? Were your thoughts right or wrong? | Marnie had already been in purebred dogs and I liked the Schipperkes so what could one Schip for a 10 year old child hurt? LOL Twenty three dogs later..... |
| Is there another breed you would have preferred to live with rather than Schipperkes? | I really like Rottweilers, but know that wouldn't have worked with our family lifestyle and kennel setup. |
| What do you like most about Schipperkes and what do you like least about Schipperkes? | I love their intelligence and independence. I sometimes really dislike their intelligence and independence. |
| How involved are you in the maintenance of the dogs? (i.e. What chores do you routinely perform) | I have worn out three "Unpaid Kennel Help" shirts by cleaning the kennels, washing runs down with bleach and other cleaners. Often on yard detail. And the last few years dog watcher while camping at dog shows. |
| Do you prefer the puppies or adult dogs? | I don't love one more than the other, but of course I just love the cute puppies. However, the adults are easier to clean up after and less work for me. |
| What do you think about dog shows in general? | They seem political because the best dog doesn't always win the breed. However, in general at Group level the quality is hard to dispute no matter who wins. |
| What do you think of performance events? | I love performance events. No politics seem to be involved. The dog and handler need to work well together. I discovered at Wine Country that I could watch lure coursing all day. |
| Do you enjoy going to the shows or other dog events? | I like the camaraderie, visiting with and talking to people. I don't enjoy watching conformation. I prefer watching all other dog events. |

Survey Questions

Response

After all these days do you think you have "an eye" for a good conformation dog? Does your spouse agree?

I think I have a fairly good idea of what a good dog looks like, but I'm not an expert. Marnie always asks me what I think, so I guess so.

Do you participate in the puppy selection process? Or do you prefer to stay far away from it and if so why?

I give my two cents worth, but I'm not expert enough.

Do you ever groom the dogs, and if not "why not".

No!!! Never did, don't want to!!! Don't wear the T-shirt. If Marnie's away I will clean butts, but only if necessary.

What never fails to amaze you about "doggy people"?

Neither sleet, nor hail, nor rain, nor snow will keep doggy people from their entered show.

What is your favourite thing or consequence of your spouse being involved in the purebred dog game?

My favourite thing is that it makes my wife very happy. My favourite consequence is the people that we have met, or will meet and the friends we have made.

What is your least favourite thing or consequence of your spouse being involved in the purebred dog game?

Setting up and tearing down camp in bad weather.

What is the name of your favourite Schipperke? And what made that dog your favourite?

Faith was my favourite Schipperke. Her heart and personality, despite being three legged she was a clown and always made me laugh.

What is the longest time your spouse has been away from home and you because of the dogs?

Two weeks was the longest I think. Marnie was helping Ursula deliver puppies and do tails and celebrate.

Have you ever gone in the ring with a dog? If so please describe the experience.

Just once. I took a puppy back in for BP ribbon and that was enough.

What are you most proud of in terms of your spouse's accomplishments in the dog world?

Seeing the excellent results of Marnie's breeding program, and witnessing Marnie sharing her knowledge with so many people who seek her out to learn, both new to the game and others.

| What were your thoughts when your spouse became interested in purebred dogs, especially the Schipperke? Were your thoughts right or wrong? | We decided on the breed together—wanted a smaller dog with a big-dog attitude. Didn't expect to get into showing or breeding. |
| Is there another breed you would have preferred to live with rather than Schipperkes? | No |
| What do you like most about Schipperkes and what do you like least about Schipperkes? | Like: small, smart, not lap dog Least: can't trust off lead |
| How involved are you in the maintenance of the dogs? (i.e. What chores do you routinely perform) | Feeding |
| Do you prefer the puppies or adult dogs? | Adult |
| What do you think about dog shows in general? | Like to watch Schips, but not stay too long. |
| What do you think of performance events? | Cool, but long waits for your dog to show. |
| Do you enjoy going to the shows or other dog events? | Again, like to see Schips, but not stay long. |
| After all these days do you think you have "an eye" for a good conformation dog? Does your spouse agree? | Yes and yes. |
| Do you participate in the puppy selection process? Or do you prefer to stay far away from it and if so why? | Sometimes |
| Do you ever groom the dogs, and if not "why not". | Rarely—not my thing |
| What never fails to amaze you about "doggy people"? | How long they can talk exclusively about dogs J |
| What is your favourite thing or consequence of your spouse being involved in the purebred dog game? | Excellent to do what you enjoy—gives purpose in life (after kids). |
| What is your least favourite thing or consequence of your spouse being involved in the purebred dog game? | Cost & tied down sometimes (almost worse than kids). |
| What is the name of your favourite Schipperke? And what made that dog your favourite? | Lincoln—perfect look for a male Schip. |

What is the longest time your spouse has been away from home and you because of the dogs?

2 weeks

Have you ever gone in the ring with a dog? If so please describe the experience.

Long ago—laughable (Obedience)

What are you most proud of in terms of your spouse's accomplishments in the dog world?

Bringing the ECSC to life and her knowledge of dogs & Schips in particular

Our sincere appreciation for completing the survey goes out to John Layng and David Hutton. You really are our unsung heroes.
